Deaf Services Queensland approved for in-home care to the Deaf seniors

In late 2016 our 'Ageing Well' service was accepted as an approved provider of home care by the Australian Government.

In February 2017 major changes are underway for the 'home care packages' are provided to ageing Australians. Under the new system, home care packages will follow the consumer, rather than being allocated to an individual provider. This will give seniors more options and allow them to better manage who provides their services.

The approval for us to provide this level of care will ensure Deaf and hard of hearing seniors have access to specialised care from professionals with an understanding of Deafness.

Your support of the Deaf Lottery has allowed us and the Ageing Well team to continue to deliver tailored home care, group activities and information on aged care to Deaf, blind and hard of hearing seniors.
